Since the publication of the report, the Council's Assistant Director for Adults Services provided the following comments:

"The Farm provides a unique service within the Borough, offering inclusive, meaningful activities for some of our most vulnerable residents. The Farm has worked closely with Adults and Communities in recent years, not only offering their services to residents but also by hosting and providing resources for council forums and workshops for other local providers, delivering a high degree of social value to the borough and supporting the development of local networks and engagement.

The services offered by the Farm are entirely aligned with local strategies to build social capital, promote volunteering and community cohesion, while supporting all residents to live fulfilling lives maximising their independence."

In addition, two additional neighbour objections have been received. The majority of comments have been detailed in the report; the following comments are additional:

- The present application would could arguably a stepping stone to building houses on the green belt
- The number of animals, although capped, would still be large and combined with the 55 people over 7 days would create noise an disturbance in excess of the regular agricultural use;

- Structures are subject to an enforcement notice/if approval granted it would be premature of the enforcement case;
- Would urge that the farm, if approved, be limited to Monday- Friday only to limit the disturbance to all local residents, and a maximum of 30 people on site be allowed, which is more than adequate given the animals on site;
- The paths are a commercial footing not subordinate as detailed in the officers' report;
- No technical advice considered as part of the officers' report. The noise was independently assessed by neighbours as part of a previous application which considered that noise levels were above quiet background of nearby homes;
- Incorrect assessment of impact on the Mill Hill Conservation Area; it is established by planning case law that private views of heritage assets and impact thereon is a material planning consideration;
- Applicant has not clearly demonstrated the appropriateness of development on the green belt.
