

Barnet Code of Corporate Governance 2018/19

Governance comprises the arrangements put in place to ensure that the intended outcomes for citizens and stakeholders are defined and achieved.

To deliver good governance within the Council, all councillors, officers and partners should strive to achieve the Council's objectives while acting in the public interest.

Acting in the public interest implies primary consideration of the benefits for the citizens of Barnet, which should result in positive outcomes for service users and other stakeholders.

The Council should keep governance arrangements up to date and relevant. The main principle underpinning the development of the new Delivering Good Governance in Local Government Framework 2016 (CIPFA/Solace) continues to be that local government is developing and shaping its own approach to governance, taking account of the environment in which it now operates. The overall aim is to ensure that resources are directed in accordance with agreed policy and according to priorities, that there is sound and inclusive decision making and that there is clear accountability for the use of those resources in order to achieve desired outcomes for service users and communities.

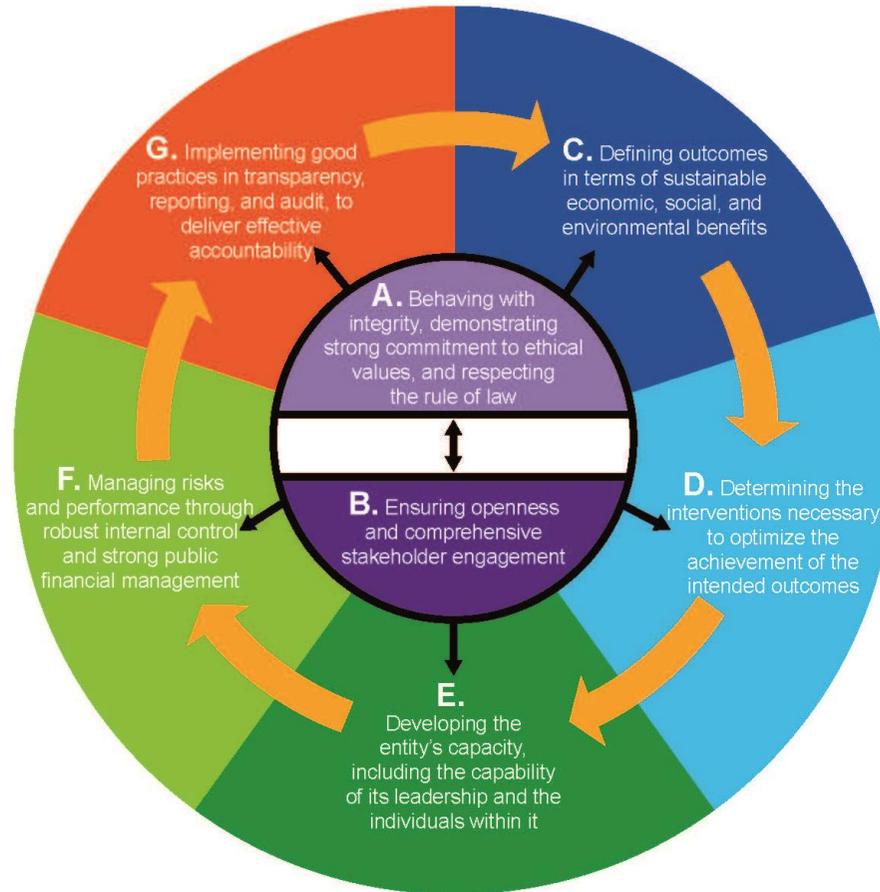

The CIPFA Framework positions the attainment of sustainable economic, societal, and environmental outcomes as a key focus of governance processes and structures. Outcomes give the role of local government its meaning and importance, and it is fitting that they have this central role in the sector's governance. Furthermore, the focus on sustainability and the links between governance and public financial management are crucial – the Council recognises the need to focus on the long-term. The Council has responsibility to more than their current electors and should take account of the impact of current decisions and actions on future generations.

The core principles and sub-principles of good governance and how they are met at Barnet are set out in the table below. However, good governance cannot be achieved by rules and procedures alone. Shared values that are integrated into the culture of the organisation, and are reflected in behaviour and policy, are hallmarks of good governance.

The Council produces an Annual Governance Statement to report publicly on the extent to which the Council complies with its local code and this is a statutory requirement.

Principles of Good Governance

Relationships between the Principles for Good Governance in the Public Sector

A. Behaving with integrity, demonstrating strong commitment to ethical values, and respecting the rule of law

Committee reports cover the options available and the reasons for recommendations. Every report sets out why the report is needed, reasons for the recommendation(s) and alternative options considered but not recommended. Where an officer's recommendation is not agreed by a committee, minutes of meetings will record the reasons for decisions. Delegated powers reports by officers will also record reasons for decisions.
Effectively engaging with institutional stakeholders to ensure that the purpose, objectives and intended outcomes for each stakeholder relationship are clear so that outcomes are achieved successfully.	Where formal partnerships exist between institutional bodies joint strategies and plans are developed in a collaborative way and jointly adopted through a joint body. Examples include the Safer Communities Strategy and Health & Wellbeing Strategy. In addition, the Project Management Toolkit has a section on Stakeholder Engagement.
Developing formal and informal partnerships to allow for resources to be used more efficiently and outcomes achieved more effectively.	A number of partnerships are in place to support work in specific joint areas including community safety (Safer Communities Partnership Board), health and social care (Health & Wellbeing Board) and sub-regional joint working (West London Economic Prosperity Board)
