Addendum to Item 9, Street Trading Policy – Appendix 6

We have received one response to the consultation and their comments are outlined below.

AGENDA ITEM 9

Consultees comments	Licensing Authority Comments
The fees are a form of taxation	For clarity the London Borough of Barnet already charge for these types of licences. The proposed fees will see an overall decrease in the cost of street trading due to the efficiencies in moving to yearly licences
The London Borough of Barnet should consider making the High Street more attractive by encouraging tables chairs parasols etc along the High Road.	The drive behind the refresh of the fees policy and conditions is to increase well regulated street trading
The proposed fees are effectively a 140% hike in the cost	Please see table below regarding fee changes and benefits
The streets are not well cleaned and traders have to clean the streets themselves	Street trading fees do not cover the cost of cleansing the street. Each street trader is responsible for their own refuse. The new strategy will allow more time for compliance checks by officers to ensure that this is adhered to
Further Comments were made in relation to parking and other areas which are not directly relevant.
