Children and Young People's Plan

2023 – 2027

Caring for people, our places and the planet

Welcome

I'm delighted to present to you the Children and Young People's Plan for Barnet 2023-2027.

Drawing upon our research data, what children and young people have told us, as well those that work with them, this Plan sets out our ambition for the coming years. It highlights what more we can do to support children, young people and their families to improve their outcomes.

Our vision is to make Barnet a safer, affordable and family friendly place to live. We want to ensure all families benefit from services and have the support they need.

We want to enable them to celebrate and have fun together. This Plan will drive our decisions and actions for the next four years to help all children and young people in Barnet fulfil their potential.

Cllr Coakley-Webb

Chair, Barnet's Children, Education and Safeguarding Committee

Welcome to the Children and Young People's Plan 2023-2027. From the outset this partnership plan has been driven and developed by the views of children, young people and their parents and carers. We aspire to enable all to achieve their potential. The plan brings together agencies in Barnet who work with children, young people and their families who remain committed to our vision to make Barnet a family friendly borough where children and young people are safe, happy, healthy, achieve well, have an influential voice and are at the heart of all decisions that affect them. Our commitment to a family friendly borough is a clear demonstration of how important we see children and young people to the future of Barnet.

It is critical that we perform our public duties to the best of our abilities. We celebrate our successes when things go well but reflect, learn, and respond in equal measure when they do not. As a partnership we act together to drive better outcomes for children, young people and their families.

Children and young people face difficulties and challenges, and our partnership has a history of working together to support families increasing their resilience enabling them to thrive.

This Plan seeks to bring the changes required to enable us to meet the needs of our most vulnerable children and young people in Barnet, while operating in a constantly changing and complex environment. We continue to be flexible and will remain so in meeting future challenges together.

I'd like to thank our children, young people, parents, carers and all those who work to support them, for help in developing this Plan. It has increased our understanding of what needs to happen to continue to make Barnet a great place for children and young people to grow up.

Chris Munday

Executive Director Children's Services

Welcome

The Children and Young People’s plan is a comprehensive strategy designed to ensure that children and young people in Barnet will have the best possible start to life. As young people, we appreciate how the plan has stemmed from what children have told policy makers from the early stages of discussion before even a first draft of the plan was created.

Young people including members of Youth Board and Barnet’s Child in Care Council BOP were then consulted throughout and their ideas and recommendations used to make changes to the document. As one young person commented seeing the feedback included - “Wow they really listened”. You as the reader will also see this feedback highlighted in the plan which has adopted four ‘key drivers’ prioritised by young people themselves: participation and co-production, inclusion, fighting inequalities and having fun.

As shown by the results from the Young People’s resident survey, Barnet is a great place for children to grow up, we feel safe here and the area as a whole is very family friendly. Nevertheless, there is always more that can be done, particularly for young people with disabilities. This plan acknowledges the issues raised through the survey, identifies the areas requiring particular attention (drugs, knife crime, gangs and anti-social behaviour) and concludes with four key areas of focus (Family and Belonging, Safe and Secure, Health and Wellbeing and Education and Skills) that will help solve the issues raised.

Furthermore, not only has the plan set out the key areas of focus, but has also laid out how progress in these areas can be monitored (the Family Friendly Index) to ensure that this strong plan is delivered. As children and young people, we greatly welcome this plan and eagerly wait for its swift and effective implementation.

Overall the Children and Young Peoples Plan is impressive, bold and promising and we have high hopes for what it can accomplish.

Introduction

The Children and Young People’s Plan 2023 – 2027 sets out our ambition, direction and goals in supporting children and young people in the coming years. It outlines the priorities, needs and aspirations of our local population with the intention of making Barnet an even more family-friendly place to live. We have developed this plan with children and young people who have been at the heart of its development from the start. Opinions and views have been taken from a range of young people forums including Barnet Youth Board, Barnet Youth Assembly, Barnet On Point and Barnet Young Carers, as well as parents, professionals and volunteers who support them.

Families are struggling with the impact of the cost-of-living crisis in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic that starkly exposed deep existing inequalities in society and the interconnections between them such as race, gender and disability, but it also showed what is possible when communities come together to provide support. We want to create a future that is family-friendly, where a collaborative partnership and community can work together to improve health and wellbeing, reduce poverty and tackle inequalities so that all children and young people achieve great outcomes.

This plan covers a wide range of organisations that are committed to making children’s lives better. Our Children and Young People’s Partnership board brings together representatives from different agencies across the borough who work with children, young people and their families.

These include

- the North Central London Integrated Care Board (NCL ICB) and its providers and commissioners (NHS)
- the Barnet Voluntary, Community, Faith and Social Enterprise (VCFSE) sector
- the London Borough of Barnet Council
- the Metropolitan Police
- Barnet Education and Learning Service (BELS)
- Barnet Schools and Settings
- Barnet Parent Carer Forum

Introduction

Important issues that affect children, young people and their families are discussed by the Board and solutions sought. As a partnership we act to drive forward change that will deliver better outcomes for children, young people and their families in Barnet.

We have achieved a lot through the previous Children and Young People's Plan 2019-2023 and our regular Youth Perception Survey (YPS) results have reflected these improvements. However, it is clear that there are still specific areas to address and that there are still specific groups of young people that do not feel as positively about Barnet. Our focus remains to ensure that all children and young people across Barnet feel positive whether they are disabled children, young carers, looked after children, unaccompanied asylum-seeking children or children of families moving into Barnet.

There have been many changes to the children's landscape since 2019 - both challenging and complex. Earlier this year an Independent Review of Children's Social Care found the current system often weakens rather than strengthens a child's support networks, depriving them of long-term loving relationships. The recent publication of Josh MacAlister's review of social services discovered they are overly focused on "investigating" families struggling to care for their children rather than providing support to help them through their difficulties. The report identified a series of recommendations to improve the system which we will be taking forward.

At the end of March 2022, the government published its long-awaited SEND review. It was commissioned to improve an inconsistent, bureaucratic, and complicated system which often means delays in children accessing the right support for their needs. The SEND Review green paper sets out the proposals for the future of the special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) and alternative provision (AP) systems. It highlights the need for a system that offers children and young people the opportunity to thrive, with access to the right support, in the right place, and at the right time, so they can fulfil their potential and lead happy, healthy and productive adult lives.

We as a partnership have worked with children and young people to develop this latest version of our Plan. It sets out our ambition for the coming few years and provides a strategic partnership framework with a commitment to work in a joined-up approach to achieve our key outcomes.

Vision

Our vision is for children and young people in Barnet to have the best start in life and the right support, when they need it, to live their lives successfully into adulthood.

We want Barnet to be the best place in London to raise a child and for all children to thrive, be healthy and achieve their potential – socially, emotionally, and academically. Our aim is to make Barnet the most family friendly borough, where children, young people and their families are safe, healthy, resilient, knowledgeable, responsible, informed and listened to. We know that family has a huge impact on children’s lives, wellbeing and chances of success.

We will achieve this by delivering universal services that are accessible, offer support to enable families to thrive and build on their strengths and resilience, recognising these as important protective factors. We have excellent schools achieving some of the best results in the country and our aim is for every school in Barnet to be good or outstanding. Tackling the gap by fighting inequalities will be a key driver in all that we do. We will also deliver high quality targeted and specialist services for our most vulnerable children and young people working together with our partners and strengthening our commitment to work together to secure the delivery of efficient, high quality and best value services.

Key to all of this is our focus on resilience - we want children, young people and their families to have the ability to bounce back from stress and hardship. To take on new challenges, which lead to better outcomes. Our aspiration for a Family Friendly borough is:

“Resilient children thriving in resilient families living in resilient communities”

To help us deliver the family-friendly vision, we want the children, young people and families who live here and use our services to tell us how well we are doing, what we need to do differently and help us make the changes that children and young people want to see.

‘My Say Matters’ is what we have called our Child Participation and Family Involvement Strategy. It sets out the way we are going to work to involve children and young people so they can tell us what they think, help us make decisions, design and shape our services. We want to include children and young people of different ages up to 25 years, and parents for younger children, from different backgrounds and experiences so we can make sure that we get lots of different views and ideas. We want to include children and young people with SEND so that their views are central to what we do.

Co-production will continue to be central to our work and we will build on the strengths of the Parent Carer Forum and the Parent Champions in co-producing services for children and young people with SEND.

Family Friendly Index

To assess whether we are delivering on our vision for a family friendly borough, we have developed a family friendly index, which sets out a range of aspirations for children and young people. These will be looked at annually to see if progress is being made against our vision for a family friendly borough. The aspirations are:

There is a strong social care service that builds resilience

Children and young people feel that Barnet is a family friendly place to live

Children and young people are involved in decision making

There are good outcomes for children with SEND

All schools are good or outstanding and children get good educational outcomes

There are low figures of crime involving children and young people

Health outcomes for children and young people are good

There are low rates of children and young people living in temporary accommodation or unsuitable housing

Families are able to access the benefits and financial assistance that they need

What's different about this plan

We want all children and young people but especially those who are most vulnerable, to have access to a good education and to lead safe, happy and healthy lives. They have told us what's important to them and we have listened. Achieving the desired outcomes is not straightforward but as partners we have chosen to adopt four key drivers that underpin delivery of the Plan based on feedback.

Great Partnerships: Participation & co-production

Means that children, young people, parents and carers can discuss and co-decide on all matters that affect them, like family, school, community matters, local government policies & legal policies. It means that their voices are being heard.

Seeing young people not only as beneficiaries but also as partners
(YP age 18)

Inclusion

We want to ensure that whatever benefits and opportunities there are in Barnet must be afforded to all. We want to make sure those with a perceived difference overcome barriers to participate in the community in accessing many things that others take for granted. This can include those with a disability as well as families migrating to Barnet.

That students with any additional needs are supported to learn and not held back due to needing additional support
(YP age 13)

Tackling the gap and fighting inequalities

We aim to ensure we understand how children and young people experience inequality of opportunities and experiences in Barnet and why this might be, in order to start to tackle these inequalities. Our focus is on addressing inequality and driving forward better outcomes for groups that include ethnic minority communities, young people with a learning disability, young carers, looked after children/care leavers and those who come into contact with the justice system.

You shouldn't be held back due to going to a school in a more deprived area which may lack resources.
(YP aged 15)

Children and young people having fun

Play is an essential right of childhood which stimulates brain development. For all young people it's the fun part that balances the stressful times. It's where important social skills are gained and healthy social development is learned through expression. It is our aim for Barnet to be a place to live and enjoy being a part of, where there are opportunities to participate in sport, leisure and arts and cultural activities, as well as gain employment and build careers.

Engage more with young people to produce fun activities
(YP age 11)

Developments and progress since 2019

The past four years have seen significant progress and achievements in the support provided to children and young people in Barnet. Educational development and achievement have improved consistently in recent years in the borough. Over 97% of Barnet schools are good or outstanding and Barnet is now in the top 10% for many measures of achievement in schools and the top 5% for many of the measures.

Our Social Care, Special Educational Needs and/or Disabilities and Youth Justice Services have been subject to inspection by Ofsted and HM Probation Inspection, and judged to be making good progress with areas of improvement identified. Figures for our looked after children remain low when compared to the rest of London and we continue to put in place measures that divert children and young people away from entering the care system where possible. However, once in the care system we work to ensure they are well supported to have the best outcomes.

Concerns around crime, violence and exploitation are subject to a vigorous and joined up approach with partners working to ensure the most vulnerable are protected. In March 2022, the Domestic Abuse and Violence Against Women and Girls Strategy was launched. This strategy sets out our vision to see Barnet become a borough where everyone is free of domestic abuse and women and girls are safe from violence.

A multi-agency coordinated response has been developed to tackle increasing levels of mental and emotional well-being concerns for children and young people. The Barnet Children and Young People's Mental Health and Wellbeing Board has been established, which focuses on strengthening support to children and young people experiencing problems.

Health and wellbeing of children and young people continue to be strengthened through preventative and resilience building programmes. Collaborative approaches enable whole system support for healthy diets, physical activity, sexual health, and emotional wellbeing - creating health promoting environments and communities and empowering young people to make healthier choices now and into adulthood.

Our progress in achieving our vision of a family friendly borough is monitored and rated through our Family Friendly Index – a range of data and intelligence relating to changes over recent years that includes views of children and young people as well as social care, health, education, housing and crime data.

What young people have said

Children and young people provided us with feedback on the issues that are important to them. We are committed to listening and acting in their best interests. Regular surveys gave responses on what is important to young people. This data has been used alongside a range of engagement sessions with children and young people to drive improvements and develop this revised Children and Young People's Plan.

The Young People's Resident Survey (YPS) is a bi-annual face-to-face survey of Barnet young residents aged 11-18, undertaken by an independent research company. The survey has been undertaken since 2016 which gives indications of trends in young people's views over time. 500 Barnet young people were interviewed between November and March 2022.

The majority of young people feel Barnet (89%) is a family friendly place to live.

Children and young people with a disability are less likely to say they are happy with their local area as a place to live (77%) and say they are satisfied with local services.

Barnet is inaccessible for wheelchairs and people are not that accommodating – has faced issues getting on and off the bus. ...People don't take young people seriously so young carers feel doubly ignored.

(Young carer SEND youth forum member,
Young People Focus Group)

What young people have said

Those who have a disability are more likely to want the council to focus resources on supporting those with long-term health problems or disabilities and those with emotional and mental health problems.

Their top priorities are:

Overall young people have said knife crime (51%) remains among their top personal safety concern, but the percentage putting it in their top three concerns is significantly lower than in 2019. Similarly, the level of concern over gangs (35%) is also significantly lower than in the last survey while people taking drugs has also fallen (34%).

Young people's top priority remains:

Gangs are a problem but they are just out to make money...if you ignore them and keep yourself to yourself they won't bother you.
(YP aged 14-15, Black Female, Young People Focus Group)

They want access to play opportunities, outside spaces and outdoor learning. They want to be able to travel safely around independently to activities and school using accessible footpaths, cycle-paths and public transport.

Having access to outdoor space where young people feel safe and school playgrounds not affected by poor air quality if near busy roads.
(YP aged 11, Youth Assembly)

Our young people have told us that it is really important that the place they live is inclusive in all senses, where all young people are treated fairly regardless of race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender, identity or disability. They want to have equality of opportunity and outcome.

Equal education across areas and demographics, you shouldn't be held back due to going to a school in a more deprived area which may lack resources.
(YP aged 15 Youth Assembly)

What we are doing

There are a wide range of strategies, plans and partnerships that enable us to do our work and they are all inextricably linked and critical to the delivery of our shared vision and objectives set out in this Plan. This Children and Young People Plan will routinely interface with other key plans and strategies affecting children and young people.

What we are doing

Reducing healthcare inequalities for children and young people is also an integral part of our approach as a partnership. The NHS England Core20PLUS5 approach (shown in the diagram below) is designed to support an integrated care system to drive action in health inequalities improvement.

It is a national approach which focuses on the following populations for children and young people:

- The nationally identified – ‘Core20’, which is the most deprived 20% of the national population as identified by the national Index of Multiple Deprivation (IMD) and the ‘5’ which is the five key clinical areas identified as areas of health inequalities (asthma, diabetes, epilepsy, oral health, and mental health).
- The area specific – ‘Plus’, which are population groups identified within NCL as experiencing poorer-than-average health access, experience and/or outcomes, who may not be captured within Core20 alone and would benefit from a tailored healthcare approach. As of February 2023, work is ongoing across North Central London (NCL) to identify which population groups will be included within the Plus populations for NCL.

The Partnership has a wide scope of activity and to deliver the outcomes identified, we will work together from now until the next plan by organising ourselves around four key themes resulting from our conversations with children, young people and parent carers as well as our own data and research. The themes are Family and Belonging, Safe and Secure, Health and Wellbeing and Education and Skills.

Family and belonging

- Support our children in care and care experienced young people to live their lives successfully
- Support children and young people with SEND to achieve well, be confident individuals, live fulfilling lives
- Provide support to young carers in carrying out their roles
- Provide support that encourages and builds resilience
- Children and young people develop a positive sense of identity
- Enable environments to allow children to have fun, play and explore the world

Safe and Secure

- Ensuring children have the space and opportunity to build trusted relationships
- Ensure the most vulnerable are protected
- Children and young people are safe and helped to make good choices
- Ensure that there is sufficient placement choice that provides safe and secure homes for our children in care

Health and Wellbeing

- Improve children's life chances by supporting their health and wellbeing from very early age and through to their transition into adulthood
- Promote good mental and emotional health across all ages and different communities and work together to prevent severe mental illness, substance misuse and suicide
- Improve choices for physical activities locally for all ages and abilities, and ensure residents know how to access it
- Provide integrated care by joining up services across health and social care

Education and Skills

- Improve the educational progress and outcomes for all children and young people
- Diminish the differences in attainment and progress between the most disadvantaged and vulnerable pupils and their peers
- Ensure the provision of high quality local placements and support for children and young people with special educational needs and disabilities
- Ensure there are sufficient high quality school places to meet the needs of Barnet children including progress into Higher Education, Apprenticeships or Employment
- Ensure that every school and setting is good or outstanding

Monitoring and governance

The monitoring of this Plan will be by the Children and Young People's Partnership Board. Regular reports on progress will be presented to the Board for scrutiny, including an annual review of the Family Friendly Index. The Partnership, which includes young people representatives, will ensure that agreed priorities against objectives are reflected in partnership work to make certain the impact of the Plan is felt by children, young people and their families. Our efforts to implement this plan will be a key priority for the coming years.

Plan engagement

There has been a range of engagement across Barnet at different stages of development that helped shaped this plan. This included conducting a series of face-to-face consultations with children and young people as well as input taken from a range of surveys capturing their views and talking with partners. From this, we have agreed new principles and priorities through and around which we will work to deliver our agreed outcomes.
