Summary

This report looks back over 50 years at a selection of topics which were public health issues fifty years ago and remain issues today. The report gives a timeline for each of the topics and some suggestions about what we need to do in the future to address them.

Recommendations

- 1. The committee is requested to note the report.

1. WHY THIS REPORT IS NEEDED

- 1.1 Under section 73B of the National Health Service Act 2006 , the Director of Public Health must prepare an annual report on the health of the people in the area of the local authority. . The annual report is the Director of Public Health's professional statement about the health of local communities, based on sound epidemiological evidence, and interpreted objectively. The report must be published by the Council.

- 1.2 The annual report is an important vehicle by which Directors of Public Health can identify key issues, flag up problems, report progress and, thereby, serve their local populations. It will also be a key resource to inform local inter-agency action.
- 1.3 Director of Public Health annual reports should:
- Contribute to improving the health and well-being of local populations
 - Reduce health inequalities
 - Promote action for better health, through measuring progress towards health targets
 - Assist with the planning and monitoring of local programmes and services that impact on health over time
- 1.4 This year, to coincide with the Director of Public Health's 50th birthday, the report reflects on a number of topics which were and remain important public health issues over the past fifty years.
- 1.5 The topics covered in the report are
- Cardiovascular Disease
 - Tuberculosis
 - Sexually Transmitted Infections
 - Tobacco control
 - Vaccine Preventable Infections
 - Healthy life expectancy
- 1.6 For each topic, the report includes changes that have happened over the past 50 years; an assessment of the current situation and any inequalities in health; and finally, consideration of the evidence based interventions needed in the coming years to continue to address these issues.
- 1.7 The Annual Public Health report in 2013 was on the subject of physical activity. Since this report was published, the public health team have undertaken a number of pieces of work in collaboration with other council departments.
- 1.8 The Fit and Active Partnership Board has been established and has met three times since September. The board is still getting to grips with the business of understanding increasing participation in physical activity but has agreed a delivery plan and has made good links with both Council officers and sports organisations. The board has commented on the Colindale Parks development and has a member of the board on the Parks and Open Spaces Strategy Project Board. The Campaign, Fit and Active Barnet or FAB, has been taken over by the board and three priorities for this have been agreed – Disability, older people and an ongoing theme of children and young people.
- 1.9 The marked and measure routes and outdoor gyms are in place and feedback has been positive, a consultation on a second wave of outdoor gyms has been conducted by the Open Spaces team in Barnet.

- 1.10 The Barnet Schools Wellbeing Programme has been running since October 2013. The programme is based upon a number of Public Health work streams including physical activity. The programme provided physical activity support to all primary schools universally in Barnet. The Health Education Partnership was commissioned to provide physical activity support including training, consultancy and resources.
- 1.11 The most recent Evaluation Report in 2014 showed that 47 schools were participating in the physical activity programme which exceeded the target of 35, and 94 staff members have attended training around physical activity so far.
- 1.12 Physical activity is also part of the Healthy School London Awards and in Barnet 60 schools are currently registered; 20 schools have achieved their bronze award; and 5 have successfully achieved their silver award. Work to obtain a silver award has included increasing participation in physical activity clubs, carrying out physical activity audits and staff being skilled up in identifying children who need support with motor skills. The aim for the second academic year is to focus on schools involving parents more in physical activity opportunities.
